FASSA BORTOLO INTERNATIONAL AWARD FOR SUSTAINABLE ARCHITECTURE Built Projects - 15th Edition 2023

This year, the International Prize for Sustainable Architecture has reached its fifteenth edition and dozens of projects from various European and non-European countries have taken part in the initiative. The event conceived and promoted in 2003 by University of Ferrara Department of Architecture, on the occasion of the tenth anniversary of its foundation and Fassa Bortolo company, created for the purpose of rewarding and making known to the broad public architecture that is able to interact with the environment in a balanced way, designed for human needs and able to satisfy the necessities of our generation without compromising, through indiscriminate consumption of resources and the resulting pollution, those of future generations.

The initiative annually alternates a section reserved for degree, master's and doctoral theses, and another dedicated instead (as this year) to built works designed by professionals.

The commission, chaired by Professor Thomas Herzog (President Emeritus, Thomas Herzog Architekten, Munich - Germany) and Marianne Burkhalter (Atelier Burkhalter Sumi - Zurich), was made up of Roman Cordero (PLUG Architecture – Merida, Mexico), Vladimir Slapeta (Brno University of Technology) and Luca Rossato (Architecture's Department of University of Ferrara).

The jury decided to award the gold medal to Hirtenweg project by the swiss atelier Harry Gugger Studio created in Riehen in Switzerland.

The two silver medals included in the competition went to the spanish firm Harchitects for the Clos Pachem Winery in Tarragona, Spain and to the 85 Social Housing Units in Cornellà in Cornellà de Llobregat, Spain by Peris Toral Architectes from Barcelona, Spain.

Three other projects from Italy and Spain were also selected as honorable mentions.

As for the Fassa Bortolo Special Award, an award that is assigned exclusively to those who, in compliance with the principles of sustainability and architectural quality, have been able to use the solutions belonging to the Fassa Bortolo Integrated System, the jury recognized the milanese GAS STUDIO with the project Casa di Langa in Cuneo.

The Award ceremony, scheduled for the afternoon of October 04th 2023, will take place in the prestigious setting of Palazzo Tassoni Estense, headquarters of the Architecture's Department of the University of Ferrara. During the awards ceremony, winners and members of the jury will be invited to participate. Like every year, this moment is seen as an important opportunity for discussion and sharing on sustainability issues, with a focus on the projects carried out.

Below is the list of awarded projects. For further information on the event, you can visit the initiative's website www.premioarchitettura.it.
